THE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

It is my uppermost desire, in this, the first of a series of four President's Messages, to convey my warmest thanks and appreciation for the honor and pleasure of serving as President of — WOW! THE EIGHTEENTH year of this great organization — the Numismatic Association of Southern California. In return for this honor and trust in my ability, it is my wish and desire to serve this office of President to the best of my ability. With the cooperation of my fellow Officers, Committees and Club Representatives, we will build up to a Convention in February of 1973 that we feel confident will be second to none.

Looking back over the past year we can give thanks to Past-President Ben Abelson, his officers and crews for the fine performance they turned in. The establishment of the NASC Club Workshop saw its initial meeting during 1971. With the approval of the Board it is my desire to hold Club Workshop No. 2 on the fourth Saturday of July, 1972. The many questions that have been directed my way concerning the holding of this Workshop, it seems to be eagerly looked forward to.

It is a profound pleasure to have the opportunity to report in this message the establishment of the Junior Achievement Award by Past-President Peggy E. Borgolte. She is the donor of this award and will make the first presentation of it to some fortunate Junior collector at the February 1973 Convention during the Banquet Ceremonies. A committee of three has been set up to judge which Junior will first be chosen for this award.

A genuine expression of appreciation is extended to the Franklin Mint for their presentation of the film, "THE ULTIMATE ACHIEVEMENT," to the Numismatic Association of Southern California. This was presented by Ralph A. Mitchell, Special Representative of the Franklin Mint during the recent Convention. This film is now available to all member Clubs contracting the Visual Education and Library Chairman.

When our first Board Meeting is called to order on March 26, 1972, a warm welcome will be extended to the Officers, Committees and Club Representatives, and it is hoped that all will take their places in readiness to devoting time and energy for furthering the success of NASC in the coming year.

N.A.S.C. SUPER SEVENTEENTH CONVENTION

The Super Seventeenth convention has come and gone, before we file it in the archives we would like to reminisce for just a bit.

If one could order just the weather they wanted it could not have been more perfect. The sun shone brightly every day and the temperature ranged from seventy to eighty degrees. Wednesday, February 23rd, the bourse room, exhibit rooms and registration area were like beehives with workers busy as bees setting up for the opening on Thursday the 24th. Bright and early Thursday, workers were at their assigned areas for the official opening, but early as they were, many convention goers were even earlier. Those attending conventions eagerly look forward to greeting friends from all points of the globe and this year was no exception.

Twenty nine other states, including Alaska and Hawaii were represented by 135 persons. Nineteen attended from the following countries, Africa, Australia, Belgium, Canada, England, Mexico, Portugal and Switzerland. Bourse dealers totaled 94, of these 58 represented 22 other states and five countries, with 36 dealers representing the state of California.

The American Numismatic Association Official Family in attendance were President and Mrs. John J. Pittman; Executive Director, Adna Wilde; Board Members, Eva Adams, Grover Criswell, George Hatie, Eldridge Jones, Glenn Smedley; and Curator, Richard Long.

Other well known numismatic personalities attending, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Bergen; Mr. Bergen is the immediate past president of the ANA. Mr. and Mrs. Ralph "Curly" Mitchell; Mr. and Mrs. Dan Harley, representing the Franklin Mint of Philadelphia, Pa. I understand "Curly" was not sure if he was coming or going at the close of the convention but he knew he had been there. The Franklin Mint room was, well, how can you classify it? Hospitality, exhibits and a showing of their new film during the entire convention; I leave it up to you. First time guests to our convention and California; representing Wellings Mint, Ontario, Canada; President and Mrs. Fred Rohde. They were not strangers to many and we hope they will return often Professional Numismatists Guild, President and Mrs. Jess Peters; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Yeoman of Western Publishing Co.; Jay Guren and Wayne Lawrence of Coin World; Fred Green, Numismatic News; Jim Miller and Len Sterling, Coinage Magazine; California State Numismatic Association, President Everett Phillips; Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Beebe; Mr. and Mrs. Dan Brown; Mr. and Mrs. Abe Kosoff, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Johnson, John Fies, Paul Whitnah. Alberto Delmonte, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Baber, Mrs. Anna Merle Panosh. Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Gould, and many, many more.

In preparing a list of the many distinguished persons attending a convention, there are always some that are not listed — it is not intentional. In greeting friends, attending activities, people are on the and some more than others, forgive any omissions.

There are many highlights to convention and all are imporspeaker of the evening; well could find an area where he own we would report it; Past

President of the Canadian Numismatic Association, currently President of the American Numismatic Association, always on the move, the one and only John Jay Pittman.
We received no advance information or title of his subject and for lack of a better one the best way to report it is, "Rare U.S. Coins." Believe me it really does not do it justice, you would have to hear it.

Ever wake up and feel like it is the middle of the night, Saturday morning was one of those days. No sleeping in, the officers and club representatives breakfast scheduled for 8:30 a.m., meant rise and shine.
President Ben Abelson had no intention of being late and all knew it would start on schedule. President Elect, William O. Wisslead, is to be complimented for presenting a speaker everyone enjoys listening to, any time, any where. Mr. Richard Yeoman, better known as "Mr. Red Book." Many interesting facts were learned about the "Silver Anniversary of the Red Book". Did you know that it is listed among the top ten of all non-fiction books published; that if all the pages of the book for the past 25 years, laid end to end, would reach to the moon; that 21 of the contributors to the twenty-fifth edition reside in California? There are 5,000 employees at Western Publishing and that during the second World War they made maps for the U.S. Air Force. These are just a few things we learned along with interesting other bits of information. I am sure all of the 136 persons attending the breakfast were glad they had to rise early, if not for breakfast, then just to hear Mr. Yeoman.

The annual N.A.S.C. business meeting scheduled for 10:00 a.m. left no time for visiting. The meeting is open to all interested persons that wish to attend, and many do, this year I had a feeling that some people slept in or returned to their rooms to rest since only 91 attended the meeting. While the ballots were being handed out for election of new officers, president Abelson called on the secretary for the reading of the minutes. There was only one nomination from the floor for new officers for the coming year, Dr. Sol Taylor for the board of governors. While the ballot and election committees were busy with their task the committee chairmen were called on to give their reports. Everything was reported going fine, no complaints. Those committee chairmen in charge of the many outstanding awards to be given at the banquet refused to say more than, "attend the banquet for the results." President Abelson complimented each officer and chairman along with their committees for their work during his term of office. President Abelson called for a standing ovation for the Policy and Procedures committee for completing a two and a half year project covering all officer and committee duties and procedures to aid them with their work. Following are the newly elected officers for the year 1972-73; President, William O. Wisslead; President-Elect, Gordon Z. Greene; Vice President, James J. Waldorf; Recording Secretary, Barbara R. Hyde; Corresponding Secretary, Ethel Lenhert;

Treasurer, Walter Snyder; Historian, Thelma M. Case. Board Members Past President Ben Abelson, Milton Fishgold, Myron McClaflin, Armand Ojeda, Ray Reinoehl, William Sadler and Dr. Sol Taylor.

Two clubs held forums Saturday afternoon. The California Exonist Society speaker, Vincent Beretta, spoke on "United States Olympic Medals". He was followed by Cork Ayres, speaking on "Circus Money".

The Azteca Numismatic Society forum at 3 p.m. presented, Frederic Claveria, using slides to illustrate his talk, "The Mexico City Mint Reales".

Seven p.m., banquet time arrived, 275 smiling faces, cheerful greetings and the sound of music was the keynote for an exciting evening. Yes, the big event of the entire convention was under way.

President Benjamin Abelson with a cheerful welcome to all set the mood of the evening. John Pittman delivered the invocation and the evening was under way. Ojeda thanks and congratulations to Armand Ojeda, banquet chairman; assisted by his lovely wife, Alicia, for a fine dinner, and good music and dancing. (Note: this writer extends her thanks for the lovely white orchids they presented her.)

With the sound of a drum roll President Abelson stepped to the podium and after introducing the NASC past presidents attending, introduced the Master of Ceremonies, Herbert M. Bergen. With the smoothness of an artist, Mr. Bergen introduced the many VIP's in attendance, then called on those who present the many fine awards. The Richard P. Goodson Trophy; highest honor, most coveted award, presented to the NASC member and the outstanding numismatist of the past and previous years' contributions to numismatics. Murray; after relating the recipient's contributions, achievements and devotion to numismatics; released Herbert M. Bergen to step forward and receive the award. This was the only time I; and I am sure others; have seen Mr. Bergen surprised and at a loss for words. Next was the President's Award; awarded to the NASC Member judged to have continuously distinguished the outstanding club member for the past year. President Abelson made the presentation to the West Valley Coin Club. This is the second consecutive year the club has received the award. Betty Berder accepted the award on behalf of the club.

Elizabeth Case was next on the program to present the Literary Awards. First, Second and Third Place awards are presented to those members whose original articles are published in one of the past four issues of the Quarterly, and judged to be the three best articles. (A complete list of all authors and their articles are listed in another section of this issue.) First Place, James J. Berdorf, for his article, "EESTI ARIIK"; Second Place, Dr. Sol Abelson for his article, "COLLECTOR TYPE COINS OF THE REPUBLIC OF INDIA"; Third Place, Peggy Morgolte for her article, "JERUSALEM - KING DAVID'S CITY."

One of the most demanding and time consuming jobs of any convention is exhibit chairman. Milton Fishgold, chairman this year is to be complimented for a job well done. A complete list of the award winners will be found on another page of this issue.

The coveted, Steve Kosoff Award, for best in show; given by the Lewis M. Reagan Memorial Foundation, and presented by Mr. Sol Kaplan; was won by Vincent Beretta for his exhibit titled, "27 Olympic Medals."

Installation was the next order of business and Miss Eva Adams; gracious and with a charm all her own; stepped forward to install the new officers for 1972-73. After speaking a few minutes, reminding those to be installed of their obligations and duties, administered the oath of office.

Newly installed President William O. Wisslead, with calm dignity delivered his acceptance speech. He then presented the Silver Lamp of Knowledge Medal; on behalf of the NASC; to outgoing president Benjamin M. Abelson. Accepting the medal with gratitude, Benjamin Abelson gave his farewell address, thanking everyone for their assistance and extending his appreciation to the dealers, members, guests and all who attended for contributing to the success of this our Super Seventeenth convention. Mr. Abelson then presented Miss Adams and Mr. Bergen a token of appreciation for serving as installation officer and master of ceremonies.

The drawing of door prizes concluded the official activities of the banquet but not the end of the evening. Many remained to congratulate the various award winners, to visit, dance, and then off to other parties.

Sunday afternoon the Ancient Coin Club of Los Angeles presented their forum. James L. Betton, guest speaker chose as his subject, "The Glory of Ancient Egypt" complimented with slides.

Officially the convention highlights were now completed. Among the many attending the convention were those FAITHFUL THREE, Mr. and Mrs. Irving Knickerbocker from San Diego and Mr. Roy Hill who have not missed an NASC convention or a CSNA convention.

THANK YOU DEPARTMENT

From Robert Vick; registration chairman, his thanks to; Mr. and Mrs. William Collins and, Mr. and Mrs. Clark Hurst for their help every day during the convention. Thanks also to all those who contributed whatever time they could.

From Larry Keil; medals and bars chairman, thanks to; Mr. Bud Ellis, Mr. Thomas Wood and, Sally Casalaina, for their assistance.

From Peggy E. Borgolte, editor, my sincere thanks to all those busy persons for contributing articles and news to our NASC Quarterly. Your assistance takes much of the labor out of the editor's job. To you belongs the credit for the past year, 1971 Quarterly Publication.

FIFTIETH ANNIVERSARY MEDAL – INTER-TRIBAL CEREMONIAL CELEBRATION – GALLUP, NEW MEXICO

By JOY PARRISH

New Mexico, the Land of Enchantment is a land of many faces. The great Southwestern desert state is steeped in American Indian history which is highlighted each year in August by the Inter-Tribal Ceremonial celebration held in Gallup, New Mexico. 1971 marked the 50th anniversary of this colorful four day fair starting with Indian dances, competitive sports and a big wild west rodeo on Thursday, with a huge ceremonial parade through downtown Gallup on Friday, Saturday and Sunday with more than twenty tribes of American Indians dressed in hundreds of different types and colors of costumes from many of the Indian tribes of America. All ceremonial performances are held at the ceremonial grounds in Lyon Memorial Park about six blocks from downtown Gallup where the Inter-Tribal Information office is located adjacent to the Gallup Area Chamber of Commerce office. Some of the exciting presentations include ages old Indian rituals and many noisy dances in as many different Indian styles, some of them having been passed down from father to son, and Mother to daughter for generations.

A monthly magazine "Your State" published by Dale Potts in Albuquerque and widely distributed throughout the state used his August issue as an open invitation to residents and visitors alike to attend the 50th anniversary celebration. Lovely Michele Jeanne Cornali of Silver City who is "Miss New Mexico" added her beauty and charm to the invitation.

To mark such an exciting event as a 50th anniversary milestone there were many souvenirs to add to collections of all types, and numismatics was no exception to that rule. Of special interest to the collectors of Exonumia material was the handsomely struck 50th anniversary commemorative medals. The medals were struck in Indian silver and bronze alloy with a gold tinted finish. The silver medals were all distributed during the ceremonies and the bronze issues that were not distributed at that time were sold by the Inter-Tribal office after the ceremonies were over. The medals are one and one half inches in diameter and tends to weigh more than most medals of that size. The obverse carries the 50th anniversary tribal emblem with the wording "Inter-Tribal Indian Ceremonial - 1971 - Gallup, New Mexico." The dancing Indian figure representative of the ceremonial graces the top of the emblem. The reverse carries an interesting assembly of clouds over the desert with the name of a place "Red Rocks at Gallup" printed across the top edge of the medal. Across the desert floor on the lower portion is the apparent end of the

COLLECTOR PROFILE

William O. Wisslead attributes himself as a product of the mid-west. His birthplace was Sciota, Illinois, a farm community near the City of Macomb. His father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. William J. Wisslead, welcomed another son as boys were always needed on the farm. Bill's brother, Lyle, lives on a farm in Macomb. Lyle's son is raising his family on the farm which was the birthplace and homeplace of Bill through High School years. His early interest in books and world geography made him realize he had not inherited the family tradition of farming. This brought the young lad to a cross-road of life's decisions. Uncle Sam's Navy came to his rescue.

On December 3, 1931, Bill said goodbye to his family and answered the call to a life that would take him to many distant shores. His first port, San Diego, California. The shipmates who were city bred complained because they had to get up at the early hour of five-thirty each morning. By comparison to farm life, Bill appreciated sleeping in an extra hour and one-half. The starting wage of $21.00 per month did not discourage him either for there was the opportunity to begin his studies and work program which advanced him through many ranks and rates. Following twenty-two years of active duty, Bill retired from the Navy as a full lieutenant.

This, however, did not mean full retirement as there were now three boys in his home. He spent the next thirteen years helping to make the Santa Ana Schools better. While on the Santa Ana College campus he applied for his G.I. educational benefits and completed three years of college with History as his major. In November of 1966 Bill wanted to attend a C.S.N.A. Convention, and it seemed the City School System could not spare him the time. November 10, 1966 he submitted his resignation and began enjoying full retirement.

In about 1954, Bill noted that his three boys, Jim, age 12, Mike, age 9, and Billy, age 6, were filling some "Penny Boards" as a Scout Project. Ole Dad decided to help the boys. By the time the boys' collecting interests had faded, Bill had been completely and irrevocably bitten by the bug. He began the search through pocket-change, rolls, and advanced from the cents to nickels to dimes to quarters to halves.

In 1957 it came to Bill's attention there was a Coin Club in Garden Grove, Calif. He joined. This gave him his first introduction to the fraternal feeling of numismatic friends. He became a joiner and a worker.

Bill's numismatic memberships clude the American Numismatic Association, California State Numismatic Association, Numismatic Association of Southern California, Canadian Numismatic Association, Fellow of the Royal Numismatic Society, Fellow of the American British Numismatic Society, and approximately forty local clubs. He served most of them as an officer, director, speaker, auctioneer, or to lend a helping hand wherever needed. He is now serving as Vice-president of the California State Numismatic Association, having served previously as Historian and Treasurer.

Bill's interest in collecting grew as he affiliated with new organizations. He has lectured in the Land of United States Coins, British Commonwealth, Mexican and his "not to be forgotten" Maria Theresa dollar.

Bill has served as a Club representative, Board of Governors of the Numismatic Association of Southern California, Editor of the "Quarterly" for two years, Vice-president, President Elect, and is now your President.

In the early part of 1970 Bill added a blonde to his collection. On March 18, 1970 he married Elizabeth Goodson, and within two hours they were on the "Coin Club Circuit". They have joined their collecting interests by becoming involved in many numismatic functions and enjoying every moment of it. Bill may attribute some of the coins in his collection as brilliant uncirculated; but he considers all his friendships as Treasures.

sentance started on the top. It states "Site of proposed American Indian culture center." The medals all have reeded edges and were packaged in a heavy cardboard holder with protective plastic covering the medal on both sides.

The ceremonial celebration is a mecca for history students, Scout troops, church and civic organizations, and those who are seeking a colorful, but inexpensive vacation spot, and those four days in August are especially appealing to those who are interested in the Indian lore of America. Those in attendance for the 1971 50th anniversary celebration received pin back buttons two inches in diameter with the ceremonial emblem printed in black lettering on a gold background with large block letters noting that the wearer was a ceremonial visitor. There are always printed programs available so visitors can attend all the programs, or only the part that they personally enjoy, thereby giving ample time to visit the museums and other points of interest in the Land of Enchantment and to collect the beautiful turquoise, the state gem, or to add more treasures to their own numismatic interest.

Information on the availability of the 1971 ceremonial medals, pins and other souvenirs may be obtained by contracting the Inter-Tribal Indian Ceremonial Association, P.O. Box No. 1029, Gallup, New Mexico - 87301.

BOOK REVIEWS

GOLD COINS of the AMERICAS By ROBERT P. HARRIS

For the first time a volume presenting comprehensive coverage of all Western Hemisphere gold coin issues from about 1750 to the present is available to the collector. The study, which is certain to become the standard reference on the subject, has been compiled by Robert P. Harris, one of the hobby's outstanding catalogers of world coin issues by date, mint and mintage.

In Gold Coins of the Americas, Harris is presenting his sixth detailed study of world coin issues by date. It was preceded by similar compilations covering modern European coins, Spanish American silver coins from 1732 to 1826 (Pillars & Portraits), and Russian coins from 1725 to the present.

The present volume fills a void which students have long recognized has retarded general collector interest in a coinage series which is both historically interesting and within reach economically. In assembling the detailed listings and statistics contained on its pages, the author has drawn on a multitude of sources generally available only to the few fortunate scholars who possess substantial research sources.

The scope of the volume stretches from 1750 to date, and ranges from Canada in the north to the Tierra Del Fuego issues of Argentina in the south, listing all regular and some pertinent pattern issues by date, mint and mintage. Documentation is also provided on assayer marks and other significant peculiarities of specific issues. The diameters and weights of each issue are likewise noted.

Equally as important as the detailed, accurate listing of issues, is the presentation of accurate, realistic prices for each date and variety in the two grades most commonly encountered. Issues are well illustrated by type, and catalog numbers are assigned to each type.

Gold Coins of the Americas is an information packed 280 page catalog bound in hard board covers. It is priced at $7.95, and may be purchased from most coin dealers and shops. If unavailable locally, it may be ordered direct from ANCO, 4320 Huntsville Road, Florence, Ala., 35360.

THE STORY OF ISRAEL IN COINS

By JEAN & MAURICE GOULD

Topics pertinent to the antecedents and birth of Israel, and its development to its present state, all illustrated with medals and coins, include Zionism, Israel's flag, ghetto uprisings, kibbutzim, and workings of the government. Prominent leaders so honored include David Ben-Gurion, Moshe Dayan, Golda Meir, Abba Eban and Levi Eshkol.

Religious ceremonies recalled on medals and coins included the Bar Mitzvah, Pidyon Haben, Shavuot and Chanuka. Religious symbols on coins are also recalled in this way.

Other topics described on medals and coins of Israel include the economy, industry, tourism, seaports and commerce, language, cities of Israel, religion, banking, science and education.

Yitzhak Avni, director-general of the Israel Government Coins and Medals Corp., Jerusalem, writes in a foreword "I have always maintained that if one is to penetrate deeply into the past and present activities of Israel, its achievements, history and culture, among the most effective media is the study of its coins and stamps."

The Story of Israel in Coins, by Jean and Maurice M. Gould, Tustin, California, has been released by the Wilshire Book Co., 12015 Sherman Road, North Hollywood, Calif. 91605. Retail price is $2.

1972 SEVENTEENTH CONVENTION SCENES

FROM THE EDITOR'S DESK

With the close of the Superseventeenth convention the NASC comes of age. We are preparing for our Eighteenth Convention and although it seems a long way off, it will be here before we realize it. Before you sit back and wait for it and the awards; I would remind you; NOW IS THE TIME FOR THAT ARTICLE YOU HAVE BEEN TELLING YOURSELF YOU WOULD WRITE.

This is your Quarterly, your contribution to it is as important as the time, effort and work you give to the convention. Remember the Quarterly is mailed to all points in the world. Many can not attend the convention but they look forward to your sharing your knowledge with them.

As important as the coin, medal, currency or media of exchange, the history behind them is equally important. Not only the size, metal content, year of issue, etc. but the history, why it was issued, the city, country and people are so important.

We have a Speakers Bureau, look at it tells you, we have many knowledgeable members. You search your topic before standing in front of an audience to deliver it, do not write it and have it published.

You could be the recipient of an award. It is always a thrill to receive a plaque or trophy but there are other awards. These come from the letters we receive from people you have never met, but who read your article. From those that contact you at a meeting or convention and tell you they enjoyed your article and learned something new, or ask you questions about it. Knowing you have contributed.

The Quarterly has an editor, right; it is up to the editor, wrong. The editor can only edit for spelling and corrections, deliver the material to the printer, assist the printer with the layout in preparation for the finished issue. It does not sound like much but it involves many hours of work, even when material is furnished. When articles are not furnished, it becomes a lost cause. Reprints must then be used and the editor does the choosing. Result; the members complain; nothing new in the Quarterly. The blame falls on the editor but is it the editor's fault? Nothing will discourage an editor so quickly.

To the membership; no matter where you live; PLEASE CONTRIBUTE to your publication.

PENNIES TO DOLLARS C.C.

Four members left on two different tours in Europe, during very late Sept. and early October. All returned with glowing reports of all they had seen. The "vacationers" brought back souvenir "uncirculated" coins as mementos for those members at home. In December the club held their annual Christmas dinner and displays. Everyone enjoyed a lavish buffet dinner, from punch to beautifully decorated sheet cakes. There were several novel coin displays and for first, second and third place there were trophies and numismatic pieces. Other exhibitors received an uncirculated Eisenhower Dollar as consolation prizes. January the club held election of officers. February meeting, the members held another "blind" auction. Each member donates a coin worth a minimum of 50 cents each, the coin is placed in a sealed envelope and put on the auction board along with regular coins for auction. The club has found this lends zest to the bidding and enriches the treasury.

PNC CLUB OF ORANGE CNTY

November meeting was attended by over seventy members. Several persons won valuable sets of PNC Covers in the raffle. In a "members only" drawing, 17 different covers, from various producers, were given away. All attending received the "Orange Book" on PNCovers, donated by the 99 Company.
